

At times, we are frustrated for not being able to put aside some money for saving and looking at the figures in the bank account declining. Bursting of the monthly budget every month and unexpected events happening that incurred expenses even though you have tried to manage the expenditures. All these are tell-tales signs of Wealth leakage. If you ignored these signs, it could harm you financially.

Wealth leakage is an intangible force that pushes your wealth vault to leak. If it isn't handled properly, it could mean loss of revenue and saving.

There are a few ways to stop a leak and increase your wealth. I am unveiling one way that you can DIY and manage it. The method that I am going to teach in this article can sustain minor leaks and see your figure in your bank inclines. Of course there are also other professional methods, which require professional geomancy practitioners to carry out. Do consult a geomancer if you require details of other remedies to lure wealth.

Sliver Coins in the Teapot method

This method has to be carried continuously for three years. During the three years process when the method is being carried out, it should guard your wealth and prevent leakage. You need to understand every step before proceed with the preparations.

1) Preparations:

- 1.1 Get a Chinese teapot with the size of the tea cover of at least 2 inches in diameter (refer to Fig 1.0).
